The Company is committed to providing leadership to ensure we improve our reputation as a property support services provider. The Company offers a comprehensive service line range focused on the following:

The integration of the service line range can provide a holistic whole life offer to support lifecycle planning for property assets.

We work closely with our partners and stakeholders to ensure the highest standards are constantly improved. To attain the above, it is essential that documented procedures are established, operated and maintained in an appropriate and responsive Management System.

We therefore operate a Management System certified to the ISO 9001 standard.

As part of the Company improvement programme a series of objectives are set, monitored and regularly reviewed.

Styles&Wood employs competent and suitably experienced personnel and partners throughout the business and actively encourages the commitment to this goal.

All employees and partners are required to be fully committed to implementing the Management System.

A copy of this Quality Policy is displayed in each office location to continuously remind employees of the Company commitment to quality.
